Dear Mr. Friedman:

As a concerned citizen and a lover of animals, I am writing to request that you work to end legally required testing involving animals, for pharmaceuticals. These tests on animals are not only cruel but obsolete, particularly when there are other alternatives available such as in-vitro tests, which have proven to be safe for both humans and animals.

Please reconsider changing the current practice of testing on animals, and strive to use alternative, cruelty-free measures. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
